Same Ship-Fairfield Wins the Match With Apawamis-Mrs. M. C. Work Lowers the Record for Women at Atlantic City. Golfers who were on the Cunard line pier evening when the Euturia arrived were keen to pick out John Henry Taylor, holder for the third time of the open championship of the world, from the individuals lining the first cabin rail. The task was simplifled by Taylor's American partner, George H. Cann, who had come on from Pittsburg to meet the Englishman. Cann and Taylor exchanged greetings, which enabled the waiting players and a small army of reporters to pick out the celebrated golfer. They saw a sturdy, square-chinned man about 5 feet 10 inches tall, clad in blue serge and wearing a golf cap of gray, while on his blue striped shirt front was a four-in-hand tie set off by a gold horseshoe pin. His trousers were rolled high over tan shoes and, all in all, the impression was of an active, stalwart young fellow, with a very determined way about him. Over Taylor's shoulder, to the surprise of all, there bobbed up the face of Charles S. Cox, who is Vardon's manager in this country. It had been thought that he was at Portland, Me., with Vardon, but the fact that he had gone down to Quarantine to meet Taylor was taken as an indication that he wished to induce Taylor to join forces with Vardon. Cox said afterward that he had been actuated by friendliness more than anything else in meeting Taylor. After the first greetings, when Taylor had walked down the gangplank, Cann said to him: "Well, how about all these rumors of why you

cann said to him:

"Well, how about all these rumors of why you have come over?"

"Geordie," said Taylor with emphasis, "I have come bere at your request and you are my partner. Until we have taiked things over I will make no plans whatever."

Later Taylor said that he had received offers by cable from several American firms to join forces with them and also from different golf clubs here to play matches with \u00e4 ardon. But as to his future here the only thing positive was that he would play in the United States Golf Association open championship at Chicago on Oct. 5 and 6. On general topics Taylor said that although usually a poor sailor, he had enjoyed every day of the trip across.

"Do you believe in interlocking the hands in the grip?" he was asked.

"Yes," replied Taylor. "I never remember holding my clubs in any other way, even in my first attempts at the game. I must say that this grip seems to be the best. If I am wrong I err in good company, for Harry Vardon does practically the same. I fancy that it gives one a better and firmer control over a club, seeing that both hands are so interlocked as to practically be one, and the idea that both wrists work in unison with each other imbues one with confidence. Certainly, this interlock grip works very well in short approaches. I need not say that I am an upholder of the pitched up approach with a cut, but of course circumstances after all cases, for at St, Andrews, where I won the open championship I une, the running up approaches were the ones that had to be played."

In response to a query from his partner. Taylor said that he had met Vardon four times last year, winning twice, tying one match and once being beaten. Although neither would commit himself to a direct statement, it could be inferred that both Taylor and Cann were anxious to get on matches with Vardon, aside from what might happen in the open championship.

Another golfing notability on the Etruria was F. E. Maemahon, manager of the company that has brought out in England a golf ball made of a substitute for gutta percha. He said he was not at liberty to say whether Taylor would use the new ball here or not. The prominence that the game has now attained among American recreations. Mr. Maemahon said very frankly, had caused him to come here to put the new ball on the market.

H. J. Whigham, looking as brown as a berry and in perfect health, was also a passenger on the Etruria. He was the United States amateur golf champion of 1898 and 1897. Whigham has been acting as a war correspondent in South Africa and is on his way to China us the representative of a London newspaper. He is due to sail from Vancouver a week from to-morrow.

PATERSON. Aug. 11.—North Jersey evened things up with Earlewood to-day by gaining a decisive victory over the visitors. The excessive heat while a handleap to comfort, was a stimulus to good play and some pretty scoring was done by both teams. The local men were 13 holes to the good when the last pair came in. The score:

Englewood-F. W. Wilson, 2; J. A. Wells, 3; B. F. Rainann, 0; J. H. Sherwood, 0; S. Mowry, 0; W. Kyle, 3; E. H. Jewett, 0; H. W. Banks, 0; C. B. Keill, 0.

NEWARK, Aug. 11.—Two styles of competitions engrossed the members of the Yountakah Country Club this afternoon. In one, a handicap against bogey, G. T. Hollister, with the aid of twenty strokes allowance, finished 5 up on the bogey, winning cather easily. His medal score also counted in the point scoring competition for the Batchelor cup. The card read $5, 20, 75, good enough to give him 3 points. G. Van Keuren had the same handicap, but required two strokes more, getting 2 points, while quired two strokes more, getting 2 points, while P.C. Pulver received a point with an even 80.

The scores: G. T. Hollister, 95, 20—75; G. Van Keuren, 97, 20—77; P. C. Pulver, 95, 15—80; W. S. Sneip, 101, 20—51; C. H. Ray, 104, 18—86; W. S. Benson, 104, 20—84; A. P. Rice, 104, 15—84; P. S. Dodd, 97, 12— 55; Mrs. W. J. Berg, 108, 18—90; Percy Jackson, 116, 14—102.

A week ago Pulver won 3 points with 78 net. Libby was second, with 81, and Marselius and F. Arnold had 16 points each, with 83. She was beaten nearly half an hour by the Corona. The Wasp was the ine at 3:23:46. She was beaten nearly half an hour by the decisive style. The race was sailed in a strong breeze from the west-southwest and at the end southwest. This made it a beat for twenty miles to the Vineyard Sound lightship and a close reach from this mark to Brenton's Reef lightship, seventeen miles. The Vankee was the second best, being beaten 5 minutes and 1 second: Virginia third, beaten 8 minutes and 55 seconds, and the Rainbow fourth, beaten 11 minutes and 28 seconds. By winning, the Mineola takes three valuable prizes. She captures the cup given by H. F. Lippitt for the 70-footer winning the most squadron runs, the cup given by former Commodore Edward M. Brown specially for this run, and the regular club cup for the day's race. Vice-Commodore Belmont was particularly pleased with his yacht's victories and has great hopes of winning the much-coveted Astor cup, which will be raced for on Monday. The next race in point of interest to-day was that between the schooners Corona and Quisset-

ta. These two yachts were racing in their respective classes, but they were also fighting against each other for the cup offered by Vice Commodore August Belmont for the schooner winning the most squadron runs, all sailing in one class. The other schooners were also competing for this prize, but as the Corona and Quissetta had each won two runs, it was conceded by all that one of these two would win the final run. The flagship had to allow more than 17 minutes to the Qui-setta, and this she failed to do. She finished 15 minutes and 52 seconds ahead, and so lost by a small margin. Unfortunately, the race was marred by a protest flag being hoisted on the Corona. It is contended that while on the starboard tack and having the right of way she was forced about by the Quissetta. H. F. Lippitt, the owner of the latter, said he was very much surprised to see the protest flag hoisted. He said the Corona at the disputed point had the right of way, but the crossing her bow did not force the Corona to tack of to bear away and as far as he could see in no way bothered her. The Quissetta made a great record during the week. She won every squadron run in her class, the cup given by Commodore L. C. Ledyard for the race off Glen Cove, and if the protest is not allowed she also wins Vice-Commodore Belmont's cup. The racing to-day was the best of the cruise. The time made was very fast and there were no flukes. The wind was quite fresh and there was quite a jump on the sea. A haze hung over the water and yachtsmen had what is called a "smoky sou'wester." The committee boat anchored to the east of West Chop buoy in Rough Water. Members of the Bloomingdale Poat Club enjoyed a gala day yesterday when the twentyseventh annual regatta of the organization was held on the Riverside course, Hudson River. The clubhouse at 102d street and North River was crowded with spectators, who whiled away the time between races with dancing on the balcony floor.

An open four-oared barge event, for which five crews entered and three faced the starter, added to the importance of the occasion. The Hoboken organizations which make a specialty of barge rowing were not opposed by Hudson River clubs, but there was keen rivalry between the Jerseymen, and many wagers on the result stimulated the excitement at the finish. 9 45 57 3 39 56 5 53 59 5 53 59 9 45 52 Did not finish. 9 46 18 4 09 54 6 23 36 6 21 57 The water was rough throughout the after-

The water was rough throughout the afternoon, and put the watermanship of the competitors to a severe test. When the crews came out for the open race the whitecaps were not quite as lively as earlier in the day. The course, which was half a mile down stream for the club events, was increased to a mile for the open races and the boats lined up for the start nearly opposite Grant's Tomb. The Actives had the most favorable position, on the outside and assumed the lead after the first quarter of a mile. The Atlantics were left badly in the first part, but had drawn up nearly even with the leaders at half a mile when a skiff in the course caused them to steer wildly.

The Actives gradually forged ahead of the Valencias and led by three lengths a quarter of a mile from the finish. Nearing the club float the Actives rowed clear across the bow of the Valencia boat, apparently to show their superiority. They won by an open boat length. The other rowing events were well contested, few of them being won by more than a length.

One of the features was the eight-cared race between the "Wandering Willies" and "Willes off the Yacht," in which the competitors appeared in weird and dazzling costumes. The summary:

Cricket Games Testerday. The Livingston P. C. added another victory to its league championship record yesterday at Prospect Park, where a victory by 47 runs rewarded its efforts against the Manhattans. The bowling of M. R. Cobb who secured 5 wickets for 18 runs, was a particular factor in this result, while W. S. R. Ogilby hit vigorously and well for 82 not out, and good work with the willow was also accomplished by M. R. Cobb, H. E. Jackson and C. H. E. Griffith. For the Mannattans, W. Adam's 18 was the best effort of the innings.

NEW RECORD BY CHARENTUS RUNS A HEAT OF SIX FUBLONGS AT SARATOGA IN 1:13 1-4.

Also Wins the Kearney Haudicap and Delights the Talent-Jockey Murphy Set Down for Incompetent Riding on Prejudice-Rock-away Lands a Hot Betting Event-Results. SARATOGA, Aug. 11,-The card offered by the Saratoga Association to its patrons this afternoon was not up to the usual Saturday standard. While the quality of the entries was good, quanthy was missing and in the majority of the events the fields were small. But this did not hurt either the speculation or the racing, both being first class in every way. The main feat-ure of the card was the Kearney Handleap, for three-year-olds and upward. This was a heat race of six, farlengs and Charentus took the race in straight heats. All of the four starters opened up at 2 to 1, but soon the play was directed chiefly to Sanders and Mr. Jersey so that Sanders went to the post the favorite at 2 to 1 with Mr. Jersey at 11 to & Charentus was at 7 to 2 and Gonfalon at 5 to 1. The race was between Charentus and Mr. Jersey all the way as Sanders and Gonfalon were both laid up. Mr. Jersey would have won the first heat but for poor riding. He made the running clear until the last sixteenth where Charenta shot through on the rail unknown to O'connor and the result was he got up in time to win

by a head.

After his win in this heat almost every one conceded the race to Charentus, who was made the favorite at 4 to 5. Gonfalon ruled second choice, favorite at 4 to 5. Gonfalon ruled second choice, having been backed from 7 to 1 to 4 to 1, but there was not much play on the other two. Charentus got away in front and with the exception of the first furiong, when Sanders showed in the lead, he led all the way and won easily from Mr. Jersey. Sanders acted very sourly after the first heat and it took some time to get him to the post. Charentus's time for the first heat was 1:13%, which equalled the record for the distance in heats. Lizzle holds the record, which is two heats in 1:13%, made as a five-year-old with 118 pounds up at Louisville on Sept. 28, 1883.

Ten two-year olds, the largest field of the day, went to the post in the first race with Farmer Bennett the choice, but he was beaten by Edgefield. Juniper and Boomerack were the leaders to the stretch, where Bennett went to the last twenty yards, when Edgefield closed strong and beat him out by a length and a haif.

Prejudice was the favorite in the second race, but Bangor, Precursor and Compensation were all backed. Frejudice went right to the front and led by eight lengths, turning into the stretch. Then Murphy began to ease up and he never looked around, so that Compensation caught him at the last sixteenth pole and won by half a length in a hard drive. Murphy made a claim of foul against Compensation which was not allowed, but the stewards took action on him for his poor ride by setting him down for six days for incompetency.

The fourth was a great betting race with Far Rockaway the favorite at 12 to 5 and Luke Ward and Gold Heels next at 5 to 2. In Shot beat the flag to a bad start and led to the stretch. Then Gold Heels and Far Rockaway moved to the front and after a hard drive all the way to the finish, Far Rockaway got up beat the flag to a bad start and led to the stretch. Then Gold Heels and Far Rockaway moved to the front and after a hard drive all the way to the finish, Far Rockaway got up in time to win by half a length.

Waring was an even money favorite for the closing race, but after leading to the atretch he quit. Then Mayor Gilroy and Advance Guard moved up and after a pretty race to the wire Advance Guard was first home by a nose. Mayor Gilroy should have won and Shaw's weak finish burnt up a lot of Pitteburg Phil's money. He had backed the colt from 7 to 1 to 3 to 1. Shaw and Bullman divided the honors to-day, each riding two winners. from 7 to 1 to 3 to 1. Shaw and Bullman divided the honors to-day, each riding two winners.

A number of two-year-olds which are eligible for the Futurity received trials at the track this morning. Elkhorn and Ballyhoo Bey, in the Whitney string did the best work. Ballyhoo Bey worked five furlongs in 1:01% and Elkhorn the same distance in 1:02. John Maden's Longshoreman went it in 1:02%, and Pete Wimmer sent Sharpshooter, also owned by Mr. Whitney, in 1:01%.
